

Maintenance management at Bavaria

“Right. Let’s have a Bavaria first.” That’s the advertising slogan of the brewer in the Dutch province of North Brabant.

Huge quantities of beer and soft drinks leave the brewery in Lieshout every day. But those quantities could be even bigger, as top management realised a number of years ago. The efficiency of the production lines had to be increased – and it was increased. Partly thanks to Stork.
